Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Football to the fore again with autumn leaves and fall fashions. A rash of prophecies and discussion breaking out in the periodicals of the country and columns of green or pink in the dailies retailing the merits of Old Siwash squads in all their great variety. Coaches and teams getting down to business on every high school and college campus. What a chance has a war in Ethiopia against a million battles on the home campuses. Well, anyhow ,we'll do our bit and say with Brick Morse that the Blue and Gold lads look good this season.

We have ceased to be interested in learned discussions regarding whether a football player becomes a professional when he accepts the largess of some alumnus to play on one team or another. It seems to be assumed in this connection that all stalwart, muscular, top notch football players are born of poor but honest parents. As a matter of fact three fourths of all students attending the more famous universities of this country do receive their board and room free of any cost to them. The "folks" pay it, and as often as not they too are lumni of some college.

We know a father who regards football training as of more value than book learning, and from infancy has trained his son in all the fine arts of the game This man was a notable football player himself. "Football makes character," says he. "I'm sending this lad of mine to take my place at guard on the U. C. and I surely expect him to give those Indians hell." He is of course seeing his son through college.

Now from a standpoint of professional training of pure football players, just how much better is it, for this father alumnus to send his crack football son to his alma mater, than for an uncle alumnus or merely a friend alumnus to do the same thing.

But when players receive a salary in addition to all living costs, there is something to roar about. The wealthiest alumni association logically should always have the best football team.

Of course the boards of trustees who have expended vast sums in building bowls and stadiums across the land wherever a sizeable university or college stands, are a bit anxious on this matter of professionalism. Several aggregations of professionals have been playing to huge throngs. They don't draw the college crowd so much but they don't need to. It looks as if shortly we will see professional football organized in much the same fashion as is baseball. But even with that. the dignitaries that guard the university money bags, we believe, need not worry. If more football is played, and in time fifty percent of the games are by professionals, more and more people will go to see them, and pay to do it.

BERT FOREMAN TOO FAST FOR RATTLERS

Mr. Bert Foreman of the Builders Supply Company of Nevada City and a friend were walking on a path at the outskirts of North San Juan Friday they unknowingly walked by a rattlesnake. The reptile, three feet long with seven rattles, struck at Mr. Foreman viciously, just missing the calf of his leg. Mr. Foreman just cleared the snake in the next step. It then started giving its alarm.

Mr. Foreman threw a big stone at the reptile and cut it in two.

This is the time of the year snakes shed their skins and are blind. They strike at anything they hear without warning. and later give warning. It was a close shave for Mh. Foreman, who has had several rather startling experiences with rattlers. "There's no use in a rattle snake trying to fool with me, I'm just too fast that's all." said Mr. Foreman.

SAZARAC MINE

A. G. Michell in charge of the Sazarac mine west of Grass Valley about two miles is making a test run of gravel with the new Denver Mechanical pan. The equipment is new in this field and is being given a trial run. Carl W. Corwin, financier, interested in the property, is spending a week at the mine while tests are under way.

SCOUTS ENTERTAIN WITH TRAVEL TALKS

Doing their good turns in a really big way, Scouts Albert Pratti, Dick Marriott, and Ray Wilde were engaged all last Friday in entertaining two very attentive audiences with tales of the recent Jamboree tour. Overflowing with interesting stories of the group trip across the United States, the three scouts were able to hold their audiences throughout their speeches.

Ray Wilde began the description of the trip during a high school assembly held Friday morning He told of the send-off received in Auburn and the trip through desert country on the first lap of the journey. Description of Salt Lake City, the Mormon Tabernacle, and the magnificent organ there, was colorful. He took his audience with him, seemingly, through Tennessee and the Royal Gorge and then on to Chicago. Scout Wilde told of seeing the chair in which President Lincoln was sitting when he was assassinated. He concluded his talk with tales of a visit to Niagara Falls and a brief but interesting stop over at West Point.

New York was adequately described by Albert Pratti, assistant Scoutmaster of the local troop. Given the opportunity to see New York's "Fifth Avenue" section and the tenement section too enabled the boys to more fully realize the variety of conditions in which people are living. Scout Pratti seemed deeply impressed with the squalor existent in the poverty stricken part, which seemed to him not even human or American in its best aspect. Seeing the great harbor through the eyes of the Statue of Liberty was only one of the thrills which New York held for the fortunate scouts. Visits to the Rockefeller Center, Dadio City, the Empire State Building and the National Scout Headquarters were all a part of the experience in this great city. Haying enjoyed the thrill and pleasure of shaking hands with Al Smith, Jack Dempsey, and James E. West, chief scout executive of the United States, the boys felt they had been given an opportunity seldom experienced by eastern tavellers. Intermingling interesting and amusing personal incidents, Pratti kept the group attentive and in good humor during his presentation.

The last of the speakers, Dick Marriott, took the audience with him along the homeward trip. The historical city of Philadelphia held much of interest to the boys as did the short but impressive trip to Washington. Here, the scouts saw the original Jamboree camp where they were to have gathered had the plans fully devtloped. The grave of the Unknown Soldier, the Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, and Mount Vernon were points of interest viewed along the way. Marriott impressed the high school audience with a description of the city of Washington. He thought it the most beautiful of all the cities visited during the entire trip. A stay in Glacier Park interested the scouts, and the trip through Seattle and down to Sacramento shortly followed. Marriott closed by saying that words could not possibly serve to describe the great adventure to which the boys were treated.

In the afternoon, Pratti and Marriott spoke before the P. T. A. Pratti described "Life at Scout Camp" and Marriott spoke concerning the "Jamboree Tour." Although less detailed than the speeches given in the morning, they did not lack in enthusiasm.

The trip will soon be but a historical incident in the life of the Scout movement. The impressions which the delegates received, however, will be of even more value as time goes on, and it will be more fully realized that the undertaking of such an adventure as this, was more than a mere joy-ride east.

LOCAL HUNTER BRINGS IN MULE TAIL DEER

Russell B Farley, liquor administrator of this district, is on his vacation which will last until October third. Last week he, with a group of hunters, enjoyed a hunt in the lava beds of Lassen National Park. Mr. Farley was the first one of the group to kill a big mule tail deer. Four bucks were killed by the party which was composed of R. B. Farley of Nevada City, Sheriff Dewey Johnson, Downieville, Sierra County, Charles Ledshaw, state lion hunter and Elmer Owens and Tony Silva of Modesto. The group returned home Saturday evening.

Mr. Farley and wife will leave in a few days for San Francisco for a few days stay.

SEVERAL INJURIES IN WEEK END ACCIDENTS

Through an accident to the automobile they were in, two CCC youths, from Camp White Cloud on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway received injuries Sunday. Leon C. Banks, 21, received cuts and bruises and a scalp laceration, but was able to leave Dr. C. P. Landis' hospital in Grass Valley. Andrew Batch, about 28, received quite a number of injuries, suffering lacerations of the face and legs, cut on arm and elbow, and bad laceration in the groin. He will be confined to Dr. Landis' hospital a few days to recover from injuries.

Joe Dowdle, employee of the Empire mine of Grass Valley, went around a curve too rapidly, it is thought, his car skidding, turning over and sliding 200 feet before coming to a stop. He was taken to Dr. Landis' hospital where the first and third fingers were amputated. An attempt is being made to save two others that are badly fractured. Dr. Landis also stated a fight will be made to save his hand. Riding with him at the time of the accident were his wife.

Last Saturday afternoon at about 5:30 Mrs. Maud Clara O'Brien Mullen of Nevada City according to Chief Robson, while driving north on Coyote street failed to stop at the stop sign at the Washington street intersection and ran into a Chevrolet delivery car, containing Mrs. Lillian Welch, her aunt, Mrs. Maud Davis and five small children, all of Willow Valley. Slight damage was done to both cars. Mrs. Mullen admitted she was at fault and settled for damages to the Welch car. Mrs. Maud Davis stated this morning that she received a severely bruised shoulder, back and arm.

Frank Wright is in a party composed of his brother, Harlan Wright of San Francisco, Guy Robinson and Charles Bennetts of this city that went to the high Sierras in search of the wily venison

FOOTBALL FANS TO SEE GAMES

Two weeks ago the statement was made that Nevada City high school would fight its gridiron battles on its own field this season. At that time, the field gave the appearance that any empty lot, bumpy and overgrown, might have given. Skeptics shook their heads and sagely murmured, "It can't be done." That was two weeks ago Today the appearance is very different, and the skeptics have no comment to make.

Coach B. C. Barron worked with a crew of eleven men last Saturday, following the use of the state grader, to put the field into shape for the opening of the season. Dirt was hauled and the field soaked down in preparation for the lining and hauling of sawdust which was started today. The completion of this field will mean much to the local gridders, and to the citizens who have in past years so faithfully gone out to Cashin's field to watch the games. In time, t turf will be grown on the playing field and bleacher seats built for the accomodation of the football fans. Perhaps there are still a few skeptics who are ready to laugh at the idea, but time will prove them wrong again. When a high school can turn out a lot full of granite boulders and choked with weeds as tall as the men who worked to clear them out into a smooth, good-sized gridiron, it is capable of doing almost anything.

Those who worked on the field Saturday were Moulton, Bonner, Barry, Gates, Wilde, Jones, Grant, Tobiassen Steger, Elliott, and Budie. These fellows believe that cooperation is the watchword of success.

EMINENT SPEAKERS AT SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

The Grass Valley Sportsman Club enjoyed the largest and most successful annual dove and buck stew that they have ever held, yesterday on the Casey Ranch below Grass Valley with between 500 and 600 in attendance.

The Grass Valley band rendered splendid music and several sets of entertainers provided an amusing and interesting program.

Speeches were made by the following prominent men: Congressman Harry L. Englebright, R. L. P. Bigelow, superintendent of the Tahoe National Forest and Judge Raglan Tuttle. Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, Sacramento; Frank Root, Marysville; William Durbrow, of the N. I. D., and John Blight, of Grass Valley. Secretary of State Jordan and several of his deputies were present for the celebration. Glen DeYoe, former Bee correspondent of Grass Valley, came over from Oroville to be present. Mr. Dave Richards of Nevada City is president of the Sportsmen Club this year.

War Lords, Old and New

If I had been King Menelaus
When lovely Helen went skylarking,
I'd not have flown into a rage
And set ferocious war dogs barking;
I would have found another wife
And spared the state that ten year's strife.

If I had been King George the third
With distant colonies to flout me,
I would have said in even tones
T eager red coats massed about me,
"We shall not cross the seas to fight
While Ireland is still in sight."

If I had been Napoleon
From Elba luckily returning,
You would have found no vengeful fires
Within my chastened spirit burning;
I would have sought for quiet places
In which to loaf and play the races.

But were I Mussolin now,
The bitter past forgetting,
I would be making plans for war
And all the worlds fond hopes upsetting;
For every war lord, in his day,
Is handicapped with feet of clay.

——A. MERRIAM CONNER.

N.C. Airport First Accident, Close Call

The first airplane accident on Nevada City's airport, which might have been quite serious, occurred Sunday. Pilot Raph V. Canning, of the Scenic Air Lines, the company which has two planes on the field, was piloting the plane known as a 220 horsepower California racer. With him as passengers were Mrs. Aileen Wellock and Mike Pavlica(of Nevada City.

The plane had just taken off and was attempting to gain altitude when the motor went dead In endeavoring to land, the plane side slipped, went into a nose dive, and turned upside down, as it settled to the ground. Had the plane not gained a matter of ten or fifteen feet it would have struck a group of pine trees. It was through the cool headedness and piloting of Canning that possibly saved their lives, as it lit at the west end of the field. The passengers fell out as the plane turned over, none of them receiving a scratch.

As Pilot Canning crawled out of the cockpit he began searching for his cigarettes, and most of the passengers, unshaken went over to finish their ride in the big plane nearby. Mr. Canning has a wife and two children in Sacramento.

CECIL SCHIFFNER A MEMBER OF A CAPELLA CHOIR

Word has been received by the Nevada City high school that Cecil Schiffner of the Class of 1935, has been accepted into the membership of the Sacramento Junior College A Capella Choir. This organization has gained fame throughout California as one of the outstanding choirs of its kind in colleges of this state.

Cecil Schiffner was well known in Nevada City for his musical ability and it is not surprising that his capabilities both vocally and on coronet were noticed by the junior college group. Friends will be glad to learn of his success in this field.

CCC AGE LIMIT IS REDUCED TO SEVENTEEN

Reduction of the minimum age limit for enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps from 18 to 17 years has been announced by Dayton Jones, state director of CCC activities in California.

By reducing the age limit to 17 years, while retaining a maximum limit of 28 years, national officials of the CCC hope to bring California's enrollment up to 23,430 as of October 1. Enrollees in the Corps receive $30 per month, $25 of which is automatically consigned to their families or dependents.

Jones also announced that the ruling which prevented a person from re-entering the corps after 13 months of constant service likewise has been rescinded.

The reduction in the age limit was said to have been occasioned by the difficulty experienced in filling the last quota. Following are the quotas allotted some of the major California counties under the new sets ups: San Francisco, 1,335; Alameda, 975; Contra Costa, 170; Marin, 86; Los Angeles, 4.535; San Diego, 440; Santa Clara, 297; Orange, 254; Fresno, 300; Kern, 200.

600 CALIF. WORK PROJECTS APPROVED

Over 600 California work projects involving the expenditure in the state of over $113,000,000 under the direction of the Works Progress Administration, had been approved by President Roosevelt as of September 18, it was disclosed by Frank Y. McLaughlin, state PWA administrator.

All of these projects will be paid for out of California's $22,000,000 allocation from the $4,000,000,000 PWA appropriation with the exception of about $24,000,000 which was granted to Los Angeles in the form of loans from the Public Works Administration.

The complete list of approved projects to date cover 46 of the 58 counties of the state. They, together with other lists to follow, will constitute the complete chart of the work that will be put into execution in California as demanded by the needs of the unemployment situation during the coming year.

Ed J. Baker of Quartz Parlor, N. S. G. W., was named alternate delegate to a meeting of Fred H. Greeley Assembly of Past Presidents Association, at their next meeting in Colusa on October 22.

WOMAN'S CIVIC CLUB PROGRAM FOR 1935. 1936

Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, program chairman of the Nevada City Woman's Civic Club has plans for the club year 1935-1936 well under way and after much study and correspondence has secured some very fine and much sought after talent for the programs. For the Dr. Tully Knoles meeting to be held in December an invitation will be extended to the public.

Mrs. Kjorlie states that though there may be some changes it is most likely that the year's program will be as follows with several social occassions added.

A glance at this not quite complete program will show that the members of the Civic Club have before them for the ensuing year a good measure of information and entertainment.

The year's program follows:

October 14. "New Understanding of International Literature," by Mrs. E. Smith, State Chairman of Literature.

November 25. "Responsibilities of Citizenship," by Dr. Tully Knoles, President of the College of the Pacific.

December 9. Reading by Mrs. Raglan Tuttle.

December 22. Forum Discussion by the club members.

January meeting. "California Missions," with illustrations by Mrs. Eva Leech of Walnut Creek.

February meeting. "International Problems," by D. Brickley of the History and Economic Department of the Sacramento Junior College.

March 10. Lecture on "Arts and Crafts," by Mrs. Schwartz, state chairman of Arts and Crafts. Mrs. Schwartz will bring with her many illustrations of art and hand work.

April meeting. Talk on Education, speaker not yet arranged for.

May meeting. Musical evening. The program will be announced later.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR AUTUMN GAMES

With several last minute changes holding up the publication of a correctly dated C. I. F. fall football schedule, the local high school has finally received the set up in full. It follows:

September 28, Grant or Oroville, Undecided.

October 2, Grass Valley, Grass Valley.

October 5, Auburn, Home.

October 12, Roseville, Home.

October 19, (open date.)

October 26, Grant o Oroville, Undecided.

November 2, Grass Valley, Home.

November 9, San Juan, Home.

Coach Barron has been fortunate in having no injuries on the team yet from practices. With only five days remaining before the whistle is blown to welcome the new season, it is possible that the team will be ready to play with a full representation of men.

Coach Barron refuses to predict the outcome of the season, since football is a game of breaks and chances that are not foreseen. Heavier and more experienced material, however, should mean a good season.

KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY'S BUSINESS FIRMS

In our communities of Nevada City and Grass Valley we are ably represented in practically every line of business, so that it is unnecessary for us to go out of town for our needs, particularly is this so in motorists needs.

Here in Nevada City, located one-half mile on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway is the Lawrence Motor Service, this firm, since it's inception, is ably managed by Thomas Lawrence and is prepared both with service and supplies to take care of the most exacting motorist's needs.

To give you an adequate idea of this place and what they do, we would suggest that you visit the firm and see for yourself the number of services they render, which include, auto repairing, brake work of all kinds, machine shop work, complete stock of parts for most every car and truck and also used parts of all kinds; also polishes, greases and auto glass service. Suffice it to say that your needs can all be taken care of by this firm.

Mr. Lawrence is an expert in his line, he knows what the motorist demands in good merchandise and at right prices and to this end has built a business that is known throughout this area for it's honest dealings.

Perhaps your car or truck needs slight adjustments, or needs a more thorough overhauling, new rings, or pistons, valves ground or countless other things mechanical, then right now is the time to get acquainted with Lawrence Motor Works.

One half mile beyond the city limits on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway in their spacious, finely lighted quarters. A word about the complete brake service would not be amiss. You cannot be too careful with the brakes on your car—soon the wet weather will be with us again and your brakes should be given attention, let us suggest that you drive in today and let Lawrence Motor Works test your brakes, on their modern equipment.

Mr. Lawrence has given our community the best in everything a modern repair and parts firm should give, let us patronize our local firms. Take your car needs to a firm which knows how, let the Lawrence Motor Service do it.

INDIA IN NEED OF MANY MORE DOCTORS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—India is badly in need of more doctors of all types to attend to the health needs of its teeming population, Major Sabon Bhatia, of the Indian Medical Service, told the staff of the University of California School of Medicine here during a visit within the past few days. Dr. Bhatia, who is dean of the Medical College of the University of Bombay, is returning to India after having been made an Honorary Fellow in the Royal Society in London.

Dr. Bhatia took special interest in the work of Dr. H. M. Evans, director of the Institute of Experimental Biology, and Dr. J. M. D. Olmsted, chairman of the department of physiology in the University at Berkeley, and made a close inspection of the work of the Hooper Foundation of the Medical School here.

The efforts of the Hooper Foundation and other medical groups of the University to stop the spread of leprosy and other diseases common to Oriental and tropical countries, was given consideraable attention by Dr. Bhatia. He expressed himself as highly pleased at the manner in which the University had attacked these problems.

Coroner L. R. Jefford and District Attorney Vernon Stoll with Court Reporter Miles Coughlin motored to Truckee today to attend the inquest into the death of an auto accident victim of two weeks ago.

"AIR HAWKS" AT THEATRE THURS. FULL OF THRILLS

Oil line gone! Tanks full of gas! Motor Flaming hot! Landing gear dropped!

If anything else would have happened to Wily Post's plane when he made his recent unsuccessful effort to smash the transcontinental air record by flying cross-country in the stratosphere, it would have been absolutely no surprise to him.

Post, who made his flight in cooperation with Columbia Pictures, related his emotions to Ralph Bellamy, Tala Birell, Director Al Rogell and others on the set of "Air-Hawks" in which his flight plays an important part. This production will open Thursday at the Nevada Theatre.

"Within an hour of my take off from Los Angeles, I knew I was in trouble," Post declared. "I had dropped my landing gear and planned to land on the fuselage in New York.

"I suddenly ealized that my oil line was gone and I would have to land with my tanks full of gasoline. I shut off the motor at an altitude of 10,000 feet to give it a chance to cool down before crashing. I glided down toward the surface of a dry lake and realized there was no way to tell which direction the wind was blowing. When it was too late to change my mind, I realized I was landing cross wind. With all the possibilities of disaster flowing through my mind this was easily the longest moment of my flying career.

"When I touched the ground the Winnie Mae behaved perfectly. There was no injury to her except a bent propeller.

Post plays an important part in "Air Hawks" as the pilot who takes a plane on a cross country dash. "Air Hawks" rips the lid from another taboo subject, the death ray, in a fast moving romantic drama of the sky ways. In the cast he is associated with Bellamy, Miss Birell, Douglass Dumbrille, Victor Kilian, Billie Seward and Robert Allen.

GOLDEN BEAR MINE WORKING OLD CHANNEL

The Golden Bear mine, adjoining the Ruby, eight miles north of Alleghany, is working the old Bait Mountain Channel through their vertical shaft and are also cross cutting to develop the Cincinnati vein to the east.

This veing has been developed from the surface through a 600-foot tunnel. It is a contact veing lying in the slates close to the serpentine and is a strong fissure which holds promise of becoming a producer with the completion of the development now under way.

The mine is well equipped with a modern plant operated by electric power from Bullards Bar. P. H. Hickey, incharge of operating, is an operator of wide experience and plans to continue throughout the winter months with a crew of ten men.

KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY'S BUSINESS FIRMS

In this business review, embracing the commercial interests that go to make up Nevada City and Grass Valley we shall not fail to include those firms and individuals whose foremost desire is to give a better service and to render the needs of good merchandising.

Such is the policy of the Builders Supply House, which is conveniently located at 315 Spring Street, here in Nevada City. Mr. Fred Conner is the genial manager of this concern.

When it comes to most anything and everything in builders needs and supplies of every description, paints, wallboard, rough and finished lumber, builders hardware, etc., this firm has it to supply for any size job, large or small.

Service has been a by-word with Mr. Conner, he believes that good service and good merchandise go hand in hand and no order is ever neglected on account of inefficiency or lack of care.

Since the inception of this firm, much building activity has taken place in Nevada City and the surrounding mining area. To a large extent this firm has furnished the building supplies and has in each case more than satisfied the customer in quality, price and service.

To have a firm of this nature in our midst is to increase the commercial value of our city and county, giving all of us more and better trade channels.

Besides managing this firm Mr. Conner always finds time out to do his share of the community's better boosting, always in the front to give the home owners and prospective builders the latest ideas and information relative to home builders supplies.

Let us boost our community, let us endeavor whenever possible to buy here in all lines, the Builders' Supply House has proven in many instances they can and will serve your building needs.

NORTH SAN JUAN

San Juan is all set for the big dance Saturday night to be given by the San Juan Ridge Improvement League, to be held in Twamley Hall. The lumber is on the spot for the roof for the hall and work will begin on it tomorrow. Financial arrangements have been completed for financing this part of the hall project.

Frank Reed of San Francisco spent the week end with Frank Miller of North San Juan.

Eight or ten men are working on the Shady Creek near San Juan. They have a drag line and are moving off the old tailings and working on the bed rock. It is reported that they have found some very good values.

PLUG PORCELAINS

While spark plug porcelains should be kept clean, they should never be ccraped with a knife or other sharp instrument, according to the Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. Porcelains should be wiped with a rag saturated with kerosene or gasoline, or given attention at a service station with eequipment for this particular work.

SENSITIVE STEERING

On late model cars the steering apparatus is much more sensitive and efficient than on the older models, according to the Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. Consequently, improper wheel alignment, looseness, and similar conditions are more likely to cause steering trouble.

KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY'S BUSINESS FIRMS

A business review of our communities would not be complete without proper mention of our professional firms, especially those who lend to the artistic development of our area.

In this brief article we wish to bring to your attention the firm of one of Nevada County's most celebrated photographers at Grass Valley. None other than Maurice Photographer, whose offices are located at 107 Mill street.

Evidence that Maurice Photographer has gained much popularity in this section of the county is seen by the large number of residents who have their portraits made by him in their homes.

Since Du Guerre introduced this wonderful science and art, photography represents the time factor between life and death. How many of us enjoy with fond remembrances those photographs of dear ones. Indeed everyone should avail themselves of having pictures taken, especially of the children and family groups.

Years ago in the smaller cities and communities we were afforded the services of a photographer only when one traveled into these places to spend a few days or a week taking pictures of those who appreciated his services. Today in many small communities this practice is still kept up.

In Nevada City and Grass Valley and surrounding area we have the advantage of having Maurice Photographer in our midst, his studio is available with a type of photographic art, price and service that is within reach of all.

Every social gathering, wedding, re-union, birthday celebration or gift portrait is always appreciated and admired long after the occasion, and only a portrait fills the space of time.

May we further suggest that you visit Maurice Photographer at an early date, see this spacious studio, see his work and plan to have that delayed portrait taken for future gifts to your friends and relatives.

Mr. Maurice is always glad to welcome both old and new faces to his place and to give you advice and information concerning his profession.

WILL IRON
1 shirt, 2 nighties

Is your electric bill higher than it used to be?

And do you still think of it as "a light bill"?

That's what it was once. Now lights are only a part of it. Now it includes a few cents for the

WASHING MACHINE

Maybe it includes an electric refrigerator. Then you have no bill for ice.

Or a range — and you have no bill for other fuel.

Electricity is Your Home's Biggest Bargain.

SAD iron days became glad iron days when the sleek and shiny electric iron came into women's hands. Perhaps in your home it was the first electric servant you put to use. Right then your electric bill became more than a light bill.

Now for just a few pennies a day, about the price of a package of cigarettes, or a magazine or a piece of pie, electricity gives your home many services besides lighting. It "perks" coffee, makes ice, beats batter, crisps toast, curls hair, sweeps rugs, runs electric clocks and radios . . . well, you can probably add more to this list.

Really, now, isn't electricity making life a lot easier in your home since the day you first used an electric iron? What else gives you such full value for your money?
